Why did you cancel my payment agreement?

Read the boxes checked below to see why we canceled your payment agreement:

- You didn't follow the rules of your payment agreement — you paid less than the full payment amount, or you made late payments.
- You didn't give us the information we needed when we reviewed your payment agreement, or you gave us wrong information.
- You didn't file a tax return on time.
- You didn't pay other taxes you owed, or you paid them late. (If you're not paying because you're appealing the other taxes, we won't cancel your payment agreement.)
- We reviewed your information and found that you now have the money to pay what you owe.
- You asked us to cancel your payment agreement.

How did you calculate how much I owe?

We reviewed our records and the tax return you filed. Here's a summary of this information:

Payment number:	15747645441
Taxes you owe:	$22,487.30
Interest you owe:	$524.20
Penalties you owe:	$1,309.50
Amount you already paid:	$0.00
Total you need to pay:	$24,402.00

What happens if I don't pay what I owe?

We'll keep charging you interest and penalties until you've paid what you owe.

We may also take steps to try to collect the money you owe, including:

- Put a tax lien on your property. For example, if you sell your house, we may take money from the sale to pay the tax you owe.
- Take money you have in the bank.
- Take money from your paychecks.
- Suspend your driver's license, car registration, and other professional licenses.
- Take your property or your business.
- Put your name, city, state, and the amount you owe on DOR's website.
- Take your Federal or State tax refund.
- Give your name to a collection agency.

How can I learn more?

This table shows more details about what you owe. Keep this notice for your records — other notices we send may not have these details.
